

The Immune System

The immune system is the silent shield that protects the body from threats (e.g.: bacteria, viruses and parasites) from the outside, and from the inside too (e.g.: cancer).

The immune system is made up of a combination of cells (white blood cells) and molecules which have the job of identifying and eliminating elements that are potentially dangerous to our health. Being extremely complex, the immune system sometimes runs into difficulty but all it takes are a few simple blood tests to highlight any alterations.

Make sure your immune system is working with the CDC|Gruppo Affidea Check-up
